

Neil Gillespie

From: "Tom Gordon, Responsive Law" <tom.gordon@responsivelaw.org>
To: <neilgillespie@mfi.net>
Sent: Friday, December 27, 2013 10:33 AM
Subject: Countdown #4: R.I.P. HALT, 1978-2013

Welcome to our year-end review of the top five stories in user-friendly law for 2013. Click here to see the whole list so far.

Countdown #4: R.I.P. HALT, 1978-2013

The movement to fix the legal system lost one of its longtime advocates, as the board of directors of HALT (Help Abolish Legal Tyranny) voted to dissolve the organization. Over its thirty-five years, HALT was a leading advocate for those who are disenfranchised in the legal system. However, over its last few years, the organization ran a deficit budget, which may have brought about its demise.

Fortunately for HALT's supporters, Responsive Law is continuing to fight on behalf of the users of the legal system. We've been operating leanly and have been financially stable since our founding in 2010. We've had a number of great successes, as you can see throughout this year-end countdown. And we look forward to keeping the best elements of HALT's work alive through our own advocacy, while making sure that our donors' contributions are used wisely.

Do you want to see the movement for a more user-friendly legal system continue? Please support Responsive Law with a contribution today!

Donate

You have received this email through your subscription to Consumers for a Responsive Legal System's email list.

Click here to unsubscribe

empowered by  salsa